3 TOWNS AND TWO CHURCHES FOR 4TH

CONCEPTION JUNCTION, PARNELL AND WILCOX TO CELEBRATE.

PLEASANT GROVE AND PALESTINE PREPARING

State and County Candidates Will Make Principal Addresses at Affairs Over the County.

The Fourth of July will not be very generally observed in Nodaway county this year. It has been the time-honored custom for Maryville to step aside and leave the patriotic celebrations to the smaller towns of the county. But Farnell, Wilcox and Conception Junction are the only towns which will do so.

Two country churches will have celebrations, Palestine Christian and Pleasant Grove (M. E. church, South). Both are in the southwest part of the county. The principal address on the program of the Pleasant Grove celebration will be made by the Rev. R. C. Holliday, pastor of the Buchanan Street Methodist church here. This will be given in the Sam Icke grove, south of the Davis school house.

William G. Sawyers, prosecuting attorney, and the Rev. G. T. Rolston, pastor, of Barnard, will be the other speakers at Pleasant Grove. Music will be furnished by Misses Edna, Esther, Margaret and Grace Dietz of Maryville. There will also be other music.

Wilcox offers a basket dinner as one of their biggest attractions. A program of speakers and fireworks is also being prepared by the following committees:

Entertainment—A. H. Hughes, C. L. Garrett, J. A. Crawford and E. E. Ashford.

Finance—Dave Zeornes, Louis Hammond, Clifford Lynch and W. T. Osborn.

Treasurer—S. A. Heflin.

Marshal—E. E. Nickols.

Stand and seat committee—E. Shell, C. D. Kelley, Purl Shell, Joe Adams, and Harold Thompson.

Fireworks—J. E. Sloan, C. J. Duncan, W. D. Osborn and Fred Hainline.

B. C. Shell will introduce the speakers

Haines Bunch to Sabetha.

Practically every store in Maryville will close all day Tuesday for the Fourth. All of the employees of the Haines store will be taken by the proprietor, H. L. Haines, in automobiles to Sabetha, Kan., the home of the original Haines store, which is owned by a brother of Mr. Haines.

Fourteen will make the trip and enjoy a picnic with the other "Haines bunch" there. They expect to leave here early Tuesday morning and return that night. They will cross the river at Rulo, Neb.

Clearmont Going to Clarinda.

As the Clearmont band has been employed by Clarinda, an effort is being made at Clearmont to have a large bunch of cars go from there to Clarinda, leaving at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Parnell offers a concert by the Rosendale band and a baseball game by the Parnell and Ravenwood base ball teams as the principal attractions of the day. It is probable that state and county candidates will be the principal speakers at all of the celebrations.

Charles D. Morris, publisher of the St. Joseph Gazette and Republican candidate for the nomination for governor, will be the principal speaker at Palestine church. B Raleigh Martin, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress from this district, will also speak. Local candidates will speak and a ball game will be played.

Mount Tabor to Celebrate.

Mount Tabor neighborhood will celebrate the Fourth this year with a basket dinner and program. Beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning a musical program will be given, after which the Rev. W. L. Womack will give an address. After dinner prizes will be given for the best fiddler, for foot races, prettiest baby, Shetland pony race, potato race, tug of war and a

MUSICAL NUMBERS FOR "GIFT NIGHT" AT EMPIRE.

PERSONAL SOLICITATION

Many Clubs and Individuals Seen Today With Urging to Co-Operate in Young People's Meeting.

The detailed program for the concert and gift night for the boys of the Fourth Regiment band in the Missouri national guard has been completed and is given in the following. All that remains now to make it completely successful is the co-operation of clubs and individuals in the preparation of gifts.

He desires that all who are not seen make this notice a personal urging to co-operate. Although several private enterprises have been successfully completed, this is the first public effort to do something for the Maryville militiamen.

Martin Lewis, Jr., will preside over the meeting. He will be assisted by other members of the union cabinet. The collection will be taken by Will Hutchison, vice president of the union and chairman of the program committee; Ed Gray, evangelistic committee chairman; Don Roberts, welfare chairman, and Philip Colbert, president of the Presbyterian Endeavor.

FOR HOT WEATHER

"MY LADY OF MARKET BASKET" IN DIFFICULTY.

SCARCITY OF ALL KINDS

One of Poorest Seasons for Both Fruits and Vegetables—Prices for the Week.

Now that the hot weather is upon us in earnest and forces us to turn away from hot foods and drinks with distaste and aversion, it behooves "my lady of the market basket" to arrange a menu that is both cooling to the body and soothing to the disposition.

And never was there a summer when the housewife found this a harder task. For this is indeed the season of the poor vegetables, of scanty gardens at home and limited supply from abroad.

With fruits the proposition is not very different. The orange market is just about demoralized, as we are now approaching that part of the year that is known as the "between seasons" in the land of the orange blossom. Consequently oranges are scarce, high and not very palatable.

And then the lemons—if you are thinking of "handing a few lemons among your friends," or even if your motive is only to live on lemonade for the summer, you will find that your lemon propensities in either direction will cost you dearly.

"Owing to the year," as the saying is, Messina lemons are off the market; so you will find yourself forced to buy California lemons and pay the prices asked by California producers, who have no competition. Prices for vegetables and fruits this week are:

Cucumbers, each	5c
Tomatoes, a pound	12½c
Beets, a bunch	5c
Radishes, a bunch	5c
Onions, a bunch	5c
Beans, a gallon	40c
Peas, a gallon	25c
Cabbage, a pound	5c
Cauliflower, a head	5c and 10c
Cantaloupes, each	10c
Watermelon, a pound	3½c
Bananas, a dozen	25c
Oranges, a dozen	40c
Blackberries, box	10c
Apricots, a dozen	10c

JOHN S. DISS DIES

MAN OF 74 ACTIVE IN NODAWAY COUNTY LIFE.

BECAME ILL AFTER TRIP

Went Back to Home Town Last November With Wife to Celebrate Golden Wedding There.

John Stephen Diss, 74 years old, died at 9 o'clock last night at the family home on West First street. In the early part of last winter Mr. Diss suffered a nervous collapse and his health failed steadily from that time.

Mr. Diss came to Nodaway county in 1870. He settled on a farm east of Maryville where he remained several years. He then purchased a farm six miles southwest of the city and lived there for more than twenty years.

He was one of the reliable and progressive men of the early days who was active in the upbuilding of Nodaway county. Thirteen years ago he retired from active farm life and during that time has lived on West First street.

Mr. Diss was born at Zanesville, O., December 26, 1841. His parents were of French descent. On November 14, 1865, he was married at Mt. Sterling, Ill., to Miss Catherine Schonen of that place, who survives her husband.

Besides his widow, Mr. Diss is survived by six children. They are: Charles E. Diss, of Fort Scott, Kan., Mrs. Aaron Linville of Skidmore; J. W. of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Lewis Diss of Des Moines, Ia.; Fred and Elizabeth Diss of this city.

He is also survived by three brothers, William Diss, east of the city, Joseph C. Diss of Lawton, Okla., and Frank Diss of California. Two children are deceased, Frank J., who died some years ago in Maryville and Agnes, an infant daughter.

J. W. Diss of Fort Wayne visited his brother recently and will not return for the funeral. Lewis Diss who visited his father last week, will arrive tonight from Des Moines, accompanied by Mrs. Diss. Ned Diss of Fort Scott, Kan., a grandson, will arrive tomorrow.

Last November, Mr. and Mrs. Diss celebrated their golden wedding and for the occasion returned to St. Mary's church at Mt. Sterling, Ill., where their marriage took place and where Mass was read for their fiftieth anniversary. At this time Mr. and Mrs. Diss and their daughter Elizabeth, made an extensive visit at the old home places and shortly after their return Mr. Diss became ill

17 JUNE LICENSES TO MARRY

This Month Five Less Than 1914 and Five More Than Last Year—Only 15 in 1913.

Interest always attaches to the number of marriage licenses issued in the month of brides. The June which closes today has had seventeen licenses to marry issued from the office of the recorder of Nodaway county. This is five more than June of last year and five less than the June of 1914. June, 1913, had fifteen licenses.

My office will be closed July 7 to August 1.

LOOKS DARK AGAIN IN MEXICAN CASE

FOREIGN AFFAIRS DEPARTMENT ISSUES DEFIANCE TO U. S.

SAID TO BE ATTITUDE OF CARRANZA'S REPLY

Cabinet and Wilson in Brief Session Today Agree to Stand Pat on Former Demands of America.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Mexico City, June 30 (via Galveston).—Measured defiance of the United States by the Carranza government, which left no doubt as to the attitude of the constitutionalists, was given out this morning in a statement of the department of foreign relations which was said to be the attitude of Carranza to the recent United States note in answer to his request for the withdrawal of the U. S. troops.

Although the statement cannot be considered as a reply to the Wilson ultimatum, it shows plainly that Carranza has not backed down, even if he did release the American prisoners.

The statement again demands the withdrawal of the troops, and declares that the Carrizal incident was a result of the "impudence" of the American officers.

"Means War," if True.

Washington, June 30.—Wilson and his advisors agreed to stand pat on Mexico in a brief cabinet meeting today. It was agreed that no reason could be presented by Carranza or the Latin-American diplomats which could call for any modification of the demands already made by the United States.

If Mexico desires to prevent war it must respect the rights of the United States and must protect its citizens by any method which will prove effective.

If the statement made public by the department of foreign relations at Mexico City this morning is a forecast of the attitude of the Mexican administration, then officials in Washington say that there can be little hope for an amicable settlement of the differences between this government and Mexico.

Ambassador Arredondo called at the state department this morning and conferred with Lansing for ten minutes. He refused to discuss his mission. Officials of the department said that the Mexican ambassador left no word concerning when the Carranza reply might be expected.

No Large Force Found.

Columbus, June 30.—Scout patrols returning today reported that there are no large bodies of Carranzista troops sighted near Guzman, as was reported by army officials. However, they have authentic information that the garrison at Guzman was augmented with additional cavalry machine guns.

Want Reply to Note Soon.

Washington, June 30.—That Consul General Rodgers, in Mexico City, will be instructed to request immediately a reply to the American note of Sunday, if it is not forthcoming voluntarily, seems certain here today.

WORKS WITH SECRETARY'S AID

In Spite of His Ninety Years H. W. McFadden of Havana, Ill., Attends to Business With Same Vigor That Enabled Him to Build Up One of Largest Estates In County.

Havana, Ill.—H. W. McFadden, who has just returned from a surveying trip to his farms in the eastern part of Mason county, is considered one of the most remarkable business men in this part of the state. Mr. McFadden is ninety years old and is entirely deaf and almost blind. He looks after his business with the same interest and vigor that enabled him to build up one of the largest estates in the county.

All his work is done through a secretary, who must copy all of his letters. This is done with a large black marking crayon in letters two inches high. Not only does he read all his mail in this way, but he is also intensely interested in the European war, and all of the war news from the papers must be copied for him.

Mr. McFadden is a native of New York state and came to Illinois when a young man of twenty-two, without any more than a good education and a sound mind and body. He first settled in Peoria, where he served as county surveyor for six years. In 1862 he came to Havana and built the first elevator here. Five years later he established the Mason County bank, the oldest financial institution in the county, of which he is now the president. A short time later he went to Peoria, where he built the Central City elevator, the first elevator to be built in Peoria. Later he established the system of elevators in Cass, Menard and Mason counties now operated by McFadden & Co., of which his sons, G. C. McFadden and B. H. McFadden, have the controlling interest.

From the very first Mr. McFadden had acquired land whenever he had an opportunity to get a good contract. He started while surveyor of Peoria county and now is the owner of about 3,000 acres in Mason county, as well as thousands of acres of the best land in Kansas, located in Coffey county. He also owns a number of store buildings in Havana, three large buildings in Chicago and extensive town and city property in Waverly and Halls Summit, Kan.

He is one of the most public spirited men in Havana and has been so all his life. He can tell interesting stories of the great political campaigns of the days before the war, when the rival political parties would erect tall poles and have great celebrations around them. Followers of each party in a community would strive to erect a pole taller than the one erected by the rival faction. Poles hundreds of feet high were put up, every man and boy in the community coming out to help.

Again, when the civil war broke uot he was a most ardent admirer of the north and tried many times to enlist, but his poor hearing, a family heritage, was against him, and he was refused. Twice he tried to slip into the ranks and go to the front anyway, but he was sent home each time. Nevertheless, he spent large sums of money for the cause in the north and encouraged all ablebodied men to go and fight for the Union.

SAYS SHRINE CURED HER.

Young Woman Who Had Been an Invalid For Years Now Well.

Lima, O.—Kathleen Daugherty, twenty-one years old, for eleven years an invalid and unable to move about except in a wheeled chair, stepped from a train here and was greeted by a crowd of fully fifty persons. She had been cured, it is said, at the shrine of Our Lady of Consolation at Carey during the annual pilgrimage.

Miss Ella McAuliffe, an aged aunt of the girl, was at the depot. She was the first one to greet the young woman. "Auntie, I'm cured!" cried the girl. The aunt, completely overcome, fainted.

The girl had been unable to move a muscle of her body since a mere child, when she was stricken with paralysis. For two years she was partially blind. She made the pilgrimage to Carey with 700 others from Lima and vicinity. She is cured and apparently permanently so. She left her wheeled chair at the shrine in Carey.

Didn't Mind Dog Biting Wooden Leg, but Pants Called For Gun Play.

St. Louis, Mo.—When Mrs. Rosie Silberman's dog bit Michael Ehrhardt's leg the other day in East St. Louis Ehrhardt thought the joke was on the dog until he looked down and saw that his trousers were torn.

This made him angry, and he drew his revolver and fired two shots at the dog. Mrs. Silberman had Ehrhardt arrested for discharging firearms in the city limits.

The dog's mistake in selection took place in front of his owner's grocery store, at Sixth street and Piggot avenue. The leg he bit was made of wood.

SERMON ON BRYAN'S FACE

DR. JAMES W. LEE TELLS OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

St. Louis Presiding Elder Says Spiritual Diet Shows Plainly in Every Person's Features.

"No one could look into the face of William Jennings Bryan among the reporters at the national Democratic convention without being able to see what grape juice and the love of God can do in the making of a vast character."

Rev. Dr. James W. Lee, presiding elder, who offered the opening prayer as chaplain of the convention that Wednesday morning, uttered these words in a sermon yesterday morning at St. John's Southern Methodist church. He said:

"As we go about, we can always tell, by looking into the faces of the persons we meet, exactly what their spiritual diet it.

"Bryan Most Remarkable Feature."

"I was profoundly impressed with the Democratic convention here. In my opinion the most remarkable thing in that convention was William Jennings Bryan. I have not always agreed with Mr. Bryan's political theories, but after more than 20 years of political struggle he has come through it all with a great, radiant, splendid, well rounded, rich character. The brightest face in the convention, the most interesting, the most beautiful, was that of Mr. Bryan.

"While Mr. Bryan was in St. Louis I interviewed him in his room at the Jefferson hotel.

"In that interview he told me he had never set his heart upon office, and that he had simply sought to do his duty by advocating the great political principles he thought necessary for the best interests of our country.

"I then told Mr. Bryan the opinion Col. Theodore Roosevelt had once expressed of him.

What Teddy Said of Him.

"It was while Roosevelt was president. I was a neighbor of Joel Chandler Harris, author of the 'Uncle Remus' stories. Roosevelt had invited Harris to Washington as his dinner guest.

"When Harris returned to Atlanta I called on Harris to learn of the dinner and interview.

"Harris told me, and this I told last week to Mr. Bryan, that Roosevelt, in reply to a question of Harris, gave this opinion of the Nebraskan:

"'By George, he would make the greatest Baptist preacher on earth.'"

Dr. Lee's subject was "The Bread of Life," taking the ground that man is a spiritual being needing spiritual nourishment, as well as a physical animal requiring physical food.—St. Louis Republic.

'TOMMY' NOW WEAK

NEW ENGLISH SOLDIER NOT LIKE PROFESSIONAL.

HAVEN'T THE ENDURANCE

German Physician Tells of Experience With Wounded British Prisoners—Aristocratic Officers Gone.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Berlin, June 30.—A German army surgeon who has been at the front since the beginning of the war, writes:

"The English Tommy Atkins who coolly smoked a cigarette on the operating table when his shattered limbs were patched up or amputated and never answered questions is a thing of the past. The new Tommy is only a substitute, but this characterization of the present British soldiers is not meant as a reflection upon him. It is impossible to transform men who do not possess military qualities from a long line of heritage into brilliant fighters by a simple command and a few weeks of training.

"The new Tommy Atkins is much different from the old one. He lacks dash and chicness. The fighting value of these poorly trained working men, clerks and farmers who have no military experience cannot be compared with that of the brilliant English soldiers who fought in Belgium at the beginning of the war.

"I always admired the old Tommies because they had the qualities which make the real soldiers: Dash, bravery, endurance and a highly developed sense of duty. When they were brought to our hospitals they never complained, no matter how badly they were hurt. They seemed to be insensible to pain and stubbornly refused to give any information if they were questioned. Every one of them seemed to be made of hickory.

"The new Tommies, although brave, are very much softer. They often cry when we bandage their wounds, and talk freely. Confidence in an absolute victory of England does not inspire them, as it inspired the old professional British soldiers. Most of them only expect that the war will end in a draw, and they hope that peace will come soon, because they want to return to their families and the peaceful life from which they have been dragged to fight for their country.

"Many of them are really only overgrown boys. The old Tommy knew no family and home. Fighting was his profession and there was not even a trade of sentimentality in his make-up.

"Everything has changed in the British army. The officers are no longer the dashing young aristocrats and gray headed warriors from the best families, for whom their men would have fought their way through hell. These brilliant commanders have all been killed or disabled.

"The new officers, men from all walks of life, are, as a rule, patriotic and brave fellows, but they have no military knowledge and experience. Generally they do not know much more than the soldiers commanded by them, and for this reason their men have little confidence in them, and they do not possess the respect of the rank and file."

TRANSLATE INTO DEEDS

President Wilson Tells Advertising Convention He Wants Advice of Everyone.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Philadelphia, June 30.—"America first, translated into what you do" was the new patriotic rallying cry sounded by President Wilson in an address to the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World in Independence square here last night.

"America first means nothing, he said, "until you translate it into what you do."

Tremendous applause swept over the crowd when the president uttered these words.

He quickly silenced the interruption and continued speaking on the subject of "The Duties of Americans to Their Country and to the Rest of the World."

"America," he continued, "at present is at a point where it is not only necessary to understand our ideals, but to be ready to put them into action at any cost. It is one thing to understand them, but it is another thing to make them work.

"It is most important that since I am in a fighting mood to tell you of some of the things I believe in. It is the duty of every American not to think of himself first, but of his country."

"America first means nothing unless you translate it into deeds," the president said.

"I believe America should ever be ready. I believe that you must be just to nations as well as to men. It comes high. It is not an easy thing to do, but I believe that at whatever cost we should be just to other people and demand the same treatment."

The president said that while we have the right to demand justice from others, we should always be ready to give justice to anyone else.

"I am ready to fight for that at any cost."

The president said that he did not believe that any small body of men should control the destinies of the nation, but he rather believed that this control rests in the hands of the great body of thinking and toiling men of the nation.

"I believe in the patriotism and initiative of the average man," he exclaimed. "Some men say they believe in that, too, but they do not act that way. There are some men who don't believe in anybody's advice but their own."

GRAHAM CORN VERY UNEVEN.

Frank McNeal Expends Small Yield From Many Fields.

"Corn is very uneven in my neighborhood this summer," said Frank McNeal, a successful farmer and feeder of Graham, Mo., who was in today with a load of hogs of his own raising. "Some of the corn has already been laid by and some of the late corn has just come up. The yield of the early corn will be fully up to the average and some of the best will be better than the average. However, the corn that has been flooded will make a very small yield."—St. Joseph Daily Stock Yards Journal.

THE "DRYS" ISSUE A ROAD MAP.

Route From Indiana Through Michigan Touches No Wet Territory.

The drys have issued an ingenious map showing that one can travel from Indiana to Mackinac through Michigan without getting into wet territory, also from Harbor Beach to Benton Harbor. A traveler can also cross the continent in dry territory, from the mouth of the James river in Virginia to the mouth of the Columbia.

Hereafter we may be given the injunction, "Travel in dry territory, like the Israelites."—Detroit Journal.

What Others Believe

Inevitability of Equal Suffrage.

In view of the recent history of the movement, it really appears reasonable to spend time in preparing for woman suffrage rather than in discussing it. So long as the agitation was confined to women who wore short hair, looked with favor upon bloomers and never by any chance had a modish frock or a becoming hat set at a fetching angle, the movement was negligible. But when a class of woman wage workers was created by modern industry who were not represented at the polls by husband, brother or son—workers whose interest in industrial conditions was the same at bottom as the working man's, and whose right to be represented at the polls could therefore be argued without appeal to the old odious comparisons and insipid banalities—the movement came into the realm of things practical. It is not given to those of us who have for years been struggling with the inertness of electorates in the face of great public questions and opportunities altogether to rejoice in the prospect of doubling the electorate by the expedient of adding to it that portion of the population whose attention is least occupied with public questions, but the actual working of woman suffrage has proven it to be as free from the awful dangers foreseen by the antis as it is innocent of the ability to realize Utopia attributed to it by many of its friends. In so many months or years it will come, and bring its problems with it.—Paul W. Brown.

SEE WORK WRONG

Suffrage, Red Cross and Settlement Adherents Toil, She Says.

DEBUTANTE UNDER ILLUSION.

Miss Josephine Miller, Who, With Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Established Red Cross Service In France, Finds Women Nobler Than She Thought. Sights Inspired Her.

St. Louis.—There are scores of things a woman can do these days that sound like poetry and work like prose. There's New York settlement service that Fifth avenue bridge players love to think would be "perfectly fascinating;" there's Red Cross service that suggests "reams of romance" for the debutante; there's the old reliable woman's suffrage, and it, you know, is a "wonderful cause." But, take it from a woman who has done all of these things, the fascination, the romance and the wonder lose their glamour when it comes right down to the everyday hard work.

Miss Josephine Miller, who returned from the Ambulance Americaine in Paris to represent the Arkansas Equal Suffrage league at the recent Democratic national convention, has forgotten to look for romance—she's busy loving women.

Miss Miller spent a year in New York social settlement work and found that the women of the east side were real women, and she learned to love them for their courage. Last September she sailed with Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, daughter of Cornelius Vanderbilt, to establish Red Cross service in France. She was impressed with the woman's side of war. When she returned last month it was the woman's side of politics that caught her enthusiasm. And, though she is in her early twenties, she's the right hand bower of the woman's cause in Arkansas.

"I always believed Joan of Arc was a fairy tale," she said. "I always believed it was impossible for a woman to inspire men and to lead an army. But when I saw those women of France, working in the fields, running the trams, keeping the shops—when I stood on the battlefield of the Marne and saw them plowing and sowing seed among the graves of their husbands and sons I saw something finer in women, something nobler than I had ever dreamed of. They seemed to be all daughters of Joan of Arc, who in their weeds of black were leading a greater army to their faith and optimism."

When Miss Miller, with Mrs. Whitney, came to France they chose as the only available location for their ambulance an old monastery of the eleventh century. They put hot water and electricity into the monastery with its eleven foot walls; they transformed the old ruins into a modern hospital which relieved the suffering of 500 soldiers. They worked from sunup to sundown and forgot the romance as well as the horrors.

With the Vanderbilt resources they hired servants from deserted hotels and gave service and conveniences to the wounded which were not found, perhaps, elsewhere in France. They cared for the soldiers, made friends with them and nursed them back to health. Some of Miss Miller's most interesting reminiscences center about the private soldiers who are willing to give everything to their country. Many of them write letters back to the Ambulance expressing their appreciation of the kindness of the American women.

Miss Miller came back last fall, and she has been doing some live things in the suffrage work, national as well as local.

LIGHTNING IGNITES GAS.

Split In Natural Main From Storm In Indiana Brought to Light by Probe.

Anderson, Ind.—Lightning split a natural gas main in the country near Pendleton during a storm, it was discovered during an investigation of why gas pressure was so low in Pendleton.

Frank Rumler, superintendent, found that a main had been split for several feet and the gas ignited. A flame ten feet high was burning. The earth had been torn away from the pipe. Several persons living there said the flame appeared during a storm, and it was supposed the gas company knew about it in a short time.

ASLEEP BEFORE MARRIAGE.

Secured a License and Was Then Locked In Office.

Lawrenceburg, Ind. — Edward L. Kuhn, aged forty-five, owner of a general merchandise store in Clay township, and Mrs. Anna Moore Davis, aged forty-five, a dressmaker of the same neighborhood, were married at the parsonage of the First Baptist church by the Rev. Omer W. Bowman, the pastor, but not at the time they planned.

Mr. Kuhn came to this city in an automobile, and the bride to be came on a late train. While waiting for Mrs. Davis Mr. Kuhn obtained a marriage license; then he sat down in the private office of the circuit court clerk and went to sleep. When the day's work was done James G. McKinney, the clerk, and his deputies, not noticing Mr. Kuhn, locked the office and went home. Mr. Kuhn awakened several hours later and found he was in the dark, locked in the office. He shouted for help several times and finally attracted the attention of Daniel E. McKennie, the sheriff, who released him. Mr. Kuhn found Mrs. Davis, who was searching the city for him, and they were married.

High School Girl Adds Figures In One Minute and Twenty-eight Seconds Despite Noise.

Philadelphia.—Miss Frances Snyderman of the William Penn high school added a column of figures recently in a room where there was a piano playing, a band of girls marching around blowing whistles and pounding on dishpans. Other girls sang "Yankee Doodle," stamped their feet and clapped their hands.

In spite of the din Miss Frances finished her sum in one minute and twenty-eight seconds, thereby winning the "distraction race," one of the events in a mathematical sports contest conducted at the high school. There were 338 entries for seven events in the contest.

Another event was a relay race, in which teams of four girls made extensions on a bill, totaled it, discounted it, applied several credits on it and then raced for the platform. It was a test of physical quickness as well as mental, and several times girls who finished the problem at the same time had a hot race for position. The event was won by the team headed by Rose Dimitman of the Stevens school.

County Clerk Fred Yeomans is in Skidmore and Quitman today taking the merchant's statements.

Charles Pathe, chevalier of the Legion of Honor, head of the great motion picture house bearing his name and one of the largest manufacturers in France, was the pioneer in the film business. He was the first man to stage a play before the camera, the first to mechanically color films and the first to transfer news events to the screen. The motion picture industry owes him a debt which cannot be overestimated.

ELECTING A PRESIDENT

J. Q. ADAMS.

Adams Elected by House In Exciting 1824 Fight.

As there were no recognized political parties this year, election became a personal contest, which resulted as follows: Andrew Jackson, 99; John Quincy Adams, 84; William H. Crawford, 41; Henry Clay, 37. No one having received a majority, the house of representatives elected Adams. Thirteen states voted for him. John C. Calhoun was generally supported for vice president and was elected.

This is the first year where the popular vote is on record. That year it was: Jackson, 155,872; Adams, 105,321; Crawford, 44,282; Clay, 46,587. It is thus noted that, while Jackson received 50,000 more votes than Adams, yet he was defeated.
